

Stop Cuts to Benefits

Why Cutting Benefits is Unfair

We are worried about changes to disability benefits like PIP and Universal Credit. These changes might make it harder to get benefits.

The changes the government is planning are not fair. They will change the lives of many people.

We are writing a letter to the Prime Minister. The letter is from Deaf, Disabled, or Neurodivergent people.

Many disabled people have high costs because they pay for support or special equipment. Cuts will make life harder.

If the government makes cuts, people who get carer's allowance might also have less money. This is worrying.

If the Prime Minister decides to cut benefits, many disabled people might not be able to pay their bills.

If these cuts happen, disabled people and their families will struggle more. They might lose help for care, travel, and basic needs.

People who already have benefits might not get more money, even if their bills get higher.

In the last 6 years, more disabled people have become homeless. This is very sad.

Many disabled people use food banks because they can't afford their bills. This is a big problem.

If benefit cuts happen, more people might become homeless or not be able to afford food.

Benefits like PIP and Universal Credit help disabled people live and work better. They are very important.

We are worried about the idea to cut benefits. This is not just about money, but life.

A fair society helps everyone, not just those who can work. Everyone deserves respect and support.

The government should think carefully about how these cuts will affect disabled people.

Disabled people deserve a good life. They should not have to worry about money and support.

The cuts will also affect the support some disabled people get to help them work. This is not good.

The idea of taking these benefits away is a bad idea and is not fair. It is not right.

I am signing my name to show that I want the government to change the plans and not cut benefits.

We ask the government to stop planning to make these cuts. It is important for everyone.
